

WALLGATE SOLID SURFACE REFURBISHMENT SERVICE

Bring products back to looking clean and fresh once more

With a typical 25 year product life expectancy, our solid surface products are designed to withstand years of use, and often misuse, too. Although perfectly fit for purpose and still going strong after many years they could start to look tired, but that can be easily reversed.

We offer a solid surface refurbishment service for all solid surface products where our skilled engineers will visit you and bring tired products back to a fresh and clean state with a high polished finish.

Using our own expert solid surface technicians, we visit your building and without removing products, refurbish your solid surface sanitaryware, with minimal disruption through a professional quality service.

We'll leave everything looking fresh and clean once more, ready to continue providing many more years of reliable and efficient service.
